

sometimes around the clock, when this is deemed necessary for their safety. Interviewees also relate how they assist vulnerable members in accessing appropriate care and services that are not readily available.⁸

The enactment of ᐱᓂᓂᓂᓂᓂᓂᓂ sihtoskâtowin may also be seen in the way the Aseniwuche Winewak Nation has chosen to structure the fully-owned AWN Group of Companies with the Aseniwuche Development Corporation (ADC) and the Aseniwuche Environmental Corporation (AEC) supporting the development of human resources and contributing to the economic success of the Nation. The enactment of ᐱᓂᓂᓂᓂᓂᓂᓂ sihtoskâtowin in the corporate sphere may be perceived as relying on the obligation of reciprocity, with each unit in AWN Group of Companies supporting one another when assistance is needed.⁹

Endnotes

1 From interview with Elder Mabel Wanyandie, April 24, 2018.

2 From interview with Elder Russell Wanyandie, April 25, 2018.

3 From interviews with Elder Philomene Moberly, April 26, 2018; Elder Mabel Wanyandie & Carol Wanyandie, April 24, 2018; Elder Russell Wanyandie, April 26, 2018 and Tom McDonald, July 23, 2018.

4 From interviews with Elder Philomene Moberly, April 26, 2018 and Elder Mabel Wanyandie, April 24, 2018.

5 From interview with Elder Philomene Moberly, April 26, 2018,

6 From interview with Tom McDonald, July 23, 2018.

7 From interview with Tom McDonald, July 23, 2018

8 From interviews with Elder Adelaide McDonald and Elder Mabel Wanyandie & Carol Wanyandie, April 24, 2018.

9 From interviews with Elder Mabel Wanyandie, April 24, 2018 and Elder Russell Wanyandie & Carol Wanyandie, April 25, 2018.

THIS GUIDE WAS PREPARED BY JOHANNE JOHNSON, Wahkohtowin
Lodge Researcher, AS PART OF
HER Master of Arts in Native Studies.

WAHKOHTOWIN

LAW & GOVERNANCE LODGE

ASENIWUCHE
WINEWAK NATION