CARIBOU PATROL GOES TO THE DEEP FREEZE FESTIVAL

Contributed by Stephanie Leonard

Caribou Patrol staff, along with several incredible volunteers, were out in full force at the Deep Freeze Festival in Edmonton on January 17 and 18. The weekend brought mild weather and an amazing turnout, making it a truly memorable event.

As part of our grant reporting, we track the number of people we engage with at events like this. Saturday, January 17, set a new one-day record, with more than 1,600 people stopping by to chat with us.

Over the course of both days, we connected with over 2,600 people—another event record.

One of my favorite moments from the weekend came later, when we received a message from a family who had visited our booth. Their child read the EduKit booklet we shared and then proudly presented what they learned to their parents. Knowing we helped spark that curiosity and passion is something we will truly treasure.

A NEW FACE AT TAWOW

Growing Stronger: Welcoming Our Newest Addition to the Tawow Centre Family

Hello everyone,

My name is Eileen Hall. I have lived in Grande Cache since the early 90's. I am the new receptionist for The Tawow Community Centre. I love my job, especially seeing the community members and meeting others that come together at our centre. Feel free to drop by for a visit and/or coffee or tea!

My hobbies are mostly spending time with family, especially the grandchildren. I love camping and travelling.

I look forward to learning new opportunities and skills with the rest of the ladies at Tawow. Have a great day!

CARIBOU CORNER

Caribou Patrol:

Caribou Patrol is an Indigenous-led program by the Aseniwuche Winewak Nation supporting caribou conservation. Since 2012, crews have monitored roadways to reduce collisions, collect wildlife data, and guide caribou safely. The program also offers public education through events, presentations, and EduKits.

Looking Ahead:

Planning is underway for the 2026/27 year, with hopes to offer more virtual and in-person presentations tailored to smaller groups. Interested organizations can reach out to stephanie@aseniwuche.com.

Caribou Update:

Caribou activity near Highway 40 has been low recently, which is typical for this time of year. Drivers are encouraged to continue watching ditches carefully and report any sightings to help keep both wildlife and people safe.

Stay updated and informed:

For more information please visit our website at <https://www.cariboupatrol.ca/> we also have a mailing list available through the website for all your in-depth caribou information.

Employment Opportunity

Family Violence Prevention Coordinator

Temporary Part-Time (28 hours/week)

Tawow Community Centre | Term ending July 31, 2027

Tawow Community Centre is seeking a compassionate and dedicated professional to support families through family violence prevention and intervention services. This role focuses on strengthening family relationships, building parenting skills, and providing culturally appropriate, strength-based support to individuals and caregivers.

The successful candidate will deliver workshops, provide one-on-one and group support, collaborate with community partners, and help connect families to resources in a safe, respectful, and trauma-informed way.

Qualifications:

A diploma or degree in Social Work, Mental Health & Addictions, or a related field is preferred, along with experience supporting individuals impacted by mental health challenges, addictions, or family violence.

To Apply:

Please submit a cover letter and resume to hr@adcalberta.com.

This position will remain open until a suitable candidate is found.

If you or someone you care about is struggling with severe drug addiction, alcoholism and/or mental health issues, please come and see our team at Tawow - we will do our best to help you and those you love on the journey to recovery.

TAWOW CENTRE – RETURNING TO THE HUNT

“Strengthening Youth Through Tradition and Mentorship”

As part of the prevention work within the Mental Health and Addictions Program, a youth mentorship initiative called Returning to the Hunt was created. During the early development of this program, we met with men from the community who expressed a strong desire to support youth involved in the program.

Through initial conversations with Winston Delorme, we connected with Landon Delorme and Curtis Hallock, who both quickly accepted roles as mentors. With their support, we set out with a shared goal: to create a place of belonging for young men, offering positive alternatives and meaningful one-on-one connections to help them navigate the challenges many youth face today.

As planning continued, each mentor brought in a helper. It soon became clear that three mentors and three helpers would not be enough. Additional community members stepped forward, and the program grew to include Randy Karakuntie, Marcel Desjarlais Sr., Stuart McDonald, Robert Wanyandie, and Brian McDonald. The strength of this program truly reflects the willingness of our community to support its youth.

We had two full classes of youth and adults who either did not have a first-time PAL or needed to renew an expired one. In November, Jen Cardinal, Indigenous owner of Cardinal Safety Training, travelled to the community and provided two full days of training. All participants successfully passed both the written and practical exams — a huge accomplishment. This training ensures participants can hunt safely and confidently, allowing them to help provide for their elders, families, community, and themselves.

Since then, several youth have already gone out hunting and successfully brought back moose. Others have participated in ice fishing outings on local lakes, either with peers or alongside mentors and helpers. On January 24, 2026, mentor Marcel Desjarlais Sr. and Claude Delorme spent the day on the lake with seven youth, teaching ice safety, setup, and fishing techniques. The laughter, teamwork, and learning shared that day were truly inspiring.

Looking ahead, upcoming plans include a larger-scale hunting trip, presentations from Fish and Wildlife, learning about trapping, outdoor education, water safety, search and rescue, and much more. If you have ideas for future topics or would like to get involved, please reach out to Tara at the Tawow.

CITIZENSHIP APPLICATIONS

IMPORTANT UPDATE:

Starting April 1, 2026, AWN funding for education, medical travel, elections, and other community programs will be available exclusively to community members on the citizenship list. This change helps ensure that funding and supports are directed to those who are formally enrolled on the citizenship list. To continue accessing these opportunities, we encourage all eligible members to apply for citizenship with AWN if they have not already.

CITIZENSHIP APPLICATIONS STILL OPEN!

Citizenship applications are currently being accepted. Becoming an enrolled member provides access to valuable funding, programs, and opportunities, while also strengthening your connection to the Nation and community. If you have questions, need support with an application, or would like more information, please visit the Citizenship Clerk at the Aseniwuche Building, email citizenshipclerk@aseniwuche.com, or call (780) 827-5510.

DOES CITIZENSHIP AFFECT TAWOW SERVICES?

Not at all! Tawow services will continue to be open and available to everyone, regardless of citizenship or enrolment status. Access to Tawow services is not affected by citizenship—Tawow remains here to support and care for our entire community.
